

AIMS AND SCOPES

“Journal of Educational Studies” is an international authorized peer-reviewed publication of the Faculty of Education, “Aleksandër Moisiu” State University of Durrës, Albania. Its aim is to publish innovative theoretical, empirical papers, reviews and professional papers in the area of education as well as other fields of research related to education. It will also publish reviews and papers on educational policy based on the progress of educational science and other related sciences like educational psychology and educational sociology. A special focus will be given to the publication of contemporary scientific and expert knowledge of teaching, learning, classroom management, methodology, curriculum and educational development, elementary and secondary education, special education, training of teachers, social studies education, educational psychology, educational interventions, educational technology, art education and intercultural education. Researchers from Albania and other countries are encouraged to submit their scientific papers giving their perspectives and expertise on educational issues.